

CAMP A. P. STEWART EAGERLY AWAITS REUNION OPENING

A. W. Chambliss, representing the Sons of Confederate Veterans, is the speaker of the occasion.

Predicts Radical Changes.
Radical changes in the work of the Confederate States Memorial Association were predicted by Mrs. W. J. Bohan, of New Orleans. In an address before the members of the body she declared that too much attention had been devoted to honoring the memory of the dead and not enough toward making provision for the living. She asserted that resolutions would be introduced to-morrow which, if adopted, may change the policy of the organization in this respect.

An enthusiastic meeting, the first of their reunion, was held to-night by the Sons of Confederate Veterans. A feature of the occasion was the singing of the Confederate hymn, composed of young women from Virginia and Tennessee. All the selections rendered were Southern melodies and brought forth repeated cheers from the Sons of Veterans and veterans present.

Among the speakers were General J. P. Norfleet, of Memphis, commander-in-chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans; General G. H. Richardson, of Georgia; W. McDonald Lee, of Virginia; and A. W. Hawkes, of Maryland.

The recent official orders of Gen. J. P. Norfleet, commander of the Tennessee Division, United Confederate Veterans, and grand marshal of the veterans' parade, prohibiting women from riding astride during the reunion here, has brought forth many expressions of protest and commendation.

Opposition to the order is being voiced largely by some of the sponsors and maids of honor affected.

Defense of General Norfleet's order, Dr. A. A. Lyon, of Nashville, Tenn., secretary of the Army and Navy Medical Association, U. C. V., to-day is quoted as follows:

"This unnatural cross saddle movement appears to be the logical outgrowth of this twentieth century agitation among a lot of dispirited women who are clamoring for 'women's rights.' It is known that Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Mrs. Roosevelt, Mrs. Taft, daughter, and Miss Helen Taft eschewed the cross saddle entirely, and if President Wilson will pardon even an allusion to his daughters on this subject, I will willingly concede that of a 50 gold piece against the stump of a cigar that the public will never have occasion to associate any one of them with the cross saddle."

"But, worst of all, they have jumped astride the cross saddle of a recent trip to Washington and New York. I satisfied myself that the truly refined and elegant ladies of those cities who exercised on horseback rode on side saddle."

Richmonders Arrive in Camp.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Chattanooga, Tenn., May 25.—After meeting with a routing reception this afternoon in Knoxville, the Richmond Howitzers, acting as escort to R. E. Lee Camp, of Richmond, arrived here to-day for the opening of the twenty-first annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans.

The Howitzers took up quarters in the City Hall, and the balance of the party was assigned to various hotels. During the day session of the grand camp the Howitzers will visit Missionary Ridge, Chickamauga and Lookout Mountain. The battery will also take part in two parades as guard of honor for the Virginia Division.

The Richmond party was royally entertained in Knoxville by the Board of Commerce, while the whole city turned out to welcome the visitors. In honor of the occasion the Howitzers donned their new full dress uniforms worn publicly for the first time, and received an ovation from the hundreds of persons who lined the sidewalks along the line of march.

The entire party was entertained by the board at an informal luncheon and cabaret entertainment, during which the luncheon, special cars were secured and a visit was paid to the handsome grounds selected as the site for the national conservation exposition. The exposition officials acted as guides through the various buildings under construction.

J. Wiley Brownell, president of the Board of Commerce, presided over the luncheon. The visitors were formally welcomed to the city by former Mayor John A. Brooks, responses being made by Captain Myers, Lieutenant Governor J. Taylor Ellyson, Dr. James Power Smith and General Theodore Garrett and J. Thompson Brown.

The Howitzers are camping in the City Hall. The hall, with cots and equipment from Richmond, and are comfortably fixed for the four-day stay. Lee Camp, consisting of thirty-five members, has leased the entire first floor of the Eastern Hotel. The field and staff officers of Virginia Division are making Hotel Patton their headquarters, while the sponsors and maids of honor are stopping with Mrs. A. W. Lands, 810 East Fourth Street. The trip was made from Richmond without mishap. Breakfast was served to-day at Asheville in the depot tables being spread in the open air. The return trip will begin Friday night.

Bell Day Total $3,600.73.

Announcement was made yesterday that the total Bell Day collections for the Home for Incubators amounted to $3,600.73. The managers issued a statement, thanking the public, and the women especially, for their generous help.

able burden and this constant interruption to the calm progress of debate, I know I am speaking for the members of the two houses, who would rejoice as much as I would to be released from this unbearable situation."

Following the statement made several days ago by Senator Williams of the Finance subcommittee, which has the annual schedule under consideration, that the duty on live stock and their products and grains and their products would be realized, it was reported to-day that the committee had agreed to put wheat on the free list along with wheat flour. In the Underwood bill wheat is subject to a duty of 10 cents a bushel, while wheat flour is free of duty. It also was reported that the committee probably would recommend removal of the 10 per cent duty on cattle, sheep and hogs in conformity with free listing of all fresh meats in the Underwood bill.

Senator Pomeroy, of Ohio, said to-day that a large delegation of manufacturers of clothing for men and women from Cleveland, Cincinnati and other Ohio cities called and informed him that they did not care one way or the other about the tariff duties placed on ready-made clothing.

"They told me," said Senator Pomeroy, "that they were ready right now to go into foreign markets and compete with the tariff duties on ready-made clothing. What they are asking is that the date for putting all the schedules of the tariff bill into effect be delayed long enough after the passage of the bill to enable them to adapt their business to the new rates."

These men, the Senator said, represented the biggest centers of the ready-made clothing industry in this country. He said that he had asked them into effect of the tariff rates be postponed being given serious consideration. Senator Johnson's subcommittee heard testimony from manufacturers against free sugar and sundry articles, and representatives of large Southern cotton mills opposed to the rates of cotton and cotton goods.

Senator Stone's subcommittee heard many witnesses protesting against woolen manufacturers and silk rates.

Darwin P. Kingsley, who appeared before Senator Williams' committee, appealed for exemption on the income tax of all insurance business done in the United States. He said that the insurance business was a natural benefit and protection and not for profit, and maintained that companies such as his came under that class. The committee took the matter under advisement after Mr. Kingsley had given the assurance that the entire surplus of the New York Life Company was held in reserve for the participation of policyholders.

They Have Spirited Exchange.
Mr. Kingsley had a spirited exchange with Senator Williams over campaign contributions disclosed in the Hughes investigation several years ago.

"When your company paid $250,000 to a campaign fund," asked Senator Williams, "none of that money ever was participated in by the policyholders, was it?"

"No, it was not," said Mr. Kingsley. "Then that proved that your company's assertion that policyholders participated in all the earnings of the company was false, didn't it?"

"It proved," Mr. Kingsley returned, "that the judgment of the company's officers, who paid this campaign contribution thinking it was necessary to protect the assets of the company, was bad."

"It proved more than that," asserted Senator Williams. "It was absolute dishonesty. I was a policyholder and a Democrat, and you took part of my money and gave it away to protect me against my own party. But has all that sort of thing been done away with in the insurance business?"

"Absolutely," replied President Kingsley. He explained laws which prohibit.

In the Senate, Senator Cummins questioned the method by which the parts of the Finance Committee had reduced the specific rates in the Payne-Aldrich bill to the equivalent ad valorem rates in the Underwood bill. He said that the equivalents were misleading in many instances.

Senator Simmons said he would endeavor to ascertain the methods employed by the experts.

Merchants Fined.
The seven merchants arrested on Sunday for being engaged in their trade on the Sabbath day were fined $5 and costs when brought before Justice Crutcher in Police Court yesterday morning. They were S. Bernhardt, H. H. Hanks, D. Silverman, E. Silverman, A. L. Walpert, John Wolf, colored, and Ellen Johnson, colored.

RUN GRACE STREET THROUGH CAMPUS

Proposition From Richmond College Approved by Council Committee.

The opening of Grace Street through the Richmond College tract was recommended to the Council for adoption by the Committee on Streets yesterday afternoon, the city to expend $7,500 in the immediate grading and developing of that thoroughfare for 320 feet westward from Ryland, and binding itself to continue this work to Lombardy Street, at a total cost of $19,000; to open two parallel alleys, and to provide water, sewerage and gas, when the college abandons its present buildings on or about January 1, 1915. The action was taken after nearly two hours of resolute debate over a report of a subcommittee. The vote was 5 to 2. Mr. Addison voting against binding the next Council for certain improvements in 1915, and Mr. Fuller objecting that the form of the proposition was indefinite and vague, and that it should come back to the committee for revision after being cast in legal form by the City Attorney.

Becomes Taxable at Once.
Provision is made that the property facing on the various streets becomes taxable from the time the streets are dedicated, so that the city will begin to reap taxes from that portion of the college campus lying within 500 feet of Ryland Street at once, and on the remainder when the removal takes place. The entire Broad Street frontage is to be reserved for the present as the home of Richmond Academy.

In the rather rambling debate, which wandered very far from the subject in hand and took up a great deal of time, several members expressed the belief that the plan reported would never get out of the Finance Committee, and that if the college wishes to sell lots and so raise money for its building operation, it had better do so at once. The method would be for the college to dedicate Grace Street and the two alleys at once, and to sell the lots, leaving the lot owners to secure improvements from time to time from the Administrative Board. It was agreed that this would be more expensive to the city, as it would entail grading damages. All of the improvements desired are of a permanent character, and it is believed wherever the taxable values justify the outlay, and at this point the street would certainly be opened through and paved on application of the abutting property owners. The plan after the old college buildings are removed.

The Sheppard Tract.
John F. Sheppard appeared before the committee asking that a water main and sewer be run in the alley north of Monument Avenue west of Sheppard Street, to serve the Sheppard farm house, on the Rosemeath Road, the only house on that tract. He stated that the Sheppard estate had not yet ready to subdivide this valuable tract lying between Monument Avenue and Broad Street, but was paying heavy taxes and had received no benefit. City Engineer Bolling explained the plans for sewerage and water mains for that section, and said that the funds had been provided in the bond issue for sewers and water mains more than two years ago, but that the alley had never been dedicated, and that if it was not planned to open up streets and dedicate them, and so develop the tract for building purposes, it would be necessary to run the sewer and water main 1,500 feet to serve on houses which he would not recommend. Mr. Sheppard could not say when the estate would consent to the dedication and improvement of Grace and other streets through the tract, and the matter was left in the hands of a subcommittee.

CAMP NAMED IN HIS HONOR

LIEUTENANT GENERAL A. P. STEWART.

LOCAL COUNCIL TO GUIDE BOY SCOUTS

Citizens Launch Organization to Support Sixteen Troops Now in Richmond.

Expressing their faith in the Boy Scout movement and pledging their support to its leaders in this city, half a hundred representative citizens last night at a meeting in the Business Men's Club, organized a Richmond Council of the Boy Scouts of America. The new organization is dedicated to the work of guiding and directing the activities of the sixteen local troops of scouts, which have a combined membership of more than 300 boys.

National Field Secretary L. S. Dale, under whose direction the local council was organized, outlined to the meeting the scope of the work, and told of the achievements of councils in other cities. He brought a message from the American Federation of Labor, which, he said, has officially endorsed the Boy Scout movement.

Before adjourning for the evening the council adopted resolutions repeating the declaration that the Boy Scouts of America, while not opposed to militarism, in itself in no sense a military organization. The statement was felt to be necessary to correct a contrary impression that had gained currency.

Elect Officers.
The council adopted a constitution and by-laws, which will be distributed to the membership in printed form. The election resulted as follows: John Stewart, Bryan, president; Thomas H. Scott, R. S. Crump, J. H. Drake, J. C. Hagan and Leon Walkerstein, vice-presidents; Aubrey Hawkins, recording secretary, and E. B. Thomasson, treasurer.

The other officers as elected last night are Dr. P. W. Howie, W. J. Todd, W. T. Dabney, Frank W. Duke and Admiral Harrie Webster, members of the court of honor; W. D. Richardson, J. P. T. P. Delrick, T. B. McAdams, H. S. Hutzler, Charles Hutzler, H. W. Rountree, John Hirschberg, L. Z. Morris, C. R. Guy, M. L. Hoffheimer, Judge Ernest H. Wells, Bryan, secretary and treasurer; Stuart, Va. ## ACCIDENT MAY BE FATAL TO THREE Charles Copeland, Wife and Son Run Down by Chesapeake and Ohio Train.

Hampton, Va., May 26.—Charles T. Copeland, one of the leading fish shippers in Elizabeth City County, his wife, Mrs. George Copeland, and their six-year-old son, Penton Copeland, are all thought to have been fatally injured to-night at 8 o'clock, when a Chesapeake and Ohio train ran down their survey at the Hope Street Crossing, in Phoebus. Mrs. Copeland and the boy have fractured skulls, and the boy also has his right leg crushed from the hip down. Mr. Copeland has a number of broken ribs and is thought to be internally hurt. The horse was killed outright, while the survey was smashed into kindling wood.

Mr. Copeland and his family had been to Hampton and were returning to their home in Foxhill by way of Phoebus. At the crossing is a very dark spot, and the view of the approaching train was hidden by a line of freight cars on the siding. Physicians in the hospital, where the recovery of Mrs. Copeland and the little boy are slight.

SENATE TO PROBE MAKING OF PLATE

Believed Result Will Be Building of Factory by Government.

Washington, May 26.—Investigation of the armor plate situation was authorized by a resolution adopted to-day by the Senate. The Naval Affairs Committee will meet Wednesday to consider instituting a thorough inquiry into armor plate bids and contracts and probably into the question of establishing a government armor factory.

To-day's action was a result of discussion following Mr. Ashurst's attack upon the so-called "armor combine." The investigation by the same Senator of a bill to provide for a government plant, and statements from Secretary Daniels declaring that the Navy Department cannot get competitive bids for armor plate, and suggestion a government plant as the only relief.

Senator Tillman, chairman of the
